EAST HIGH SCHOOL
DES MOINES, IOWA
JUNE 1949

The diary is complete but for one last entry
It will be made many years hence, and might read like this

Today, I once more thumbbed through my old Quill. It was wonderful the way old memories can live and vividness again. The happy times old friends, all come to mind once more.

And to these memories, and their long life, we dedicate this Quill.

These lamp posts have enlightened many a dark nigh

The beautiful Grecian panels around school are seldom noticed by many students.

Here is a good shot of the pillars on the north front

What better place to study!
Spring, when a young man's thoughts - - -

The south wolk. No doubt a well-trodden way.

Green lawns, gnarled oaks,
blended to form a fine campus.

Profile of a great lady She's quite distinguished looking.

EAST HIGH

Large old grey rocks
Cemented together
To form a wall
And at the top a roof.
All quite uncolorful
Yet dear
Majestic
Dignified.
Big brawny pillars
Round stone on stone
And at the top a carved stone.
Memories that last forever begin here.

Big resolute plans
Put together
To form a blueprint
And at the top
A dream—accomplished.
At first unfashioned
But now clear
Determined
Firm.

Bold ambitious students
Worked together
To form a plan
But not alone.
Teachers, Taxpayers
School board members
Work and plans
Opposition
More work
Then at the end—success
Until now it is a part of us
Us, it.

A sure foundation
Built together
To make our school
And all the time
Good men helping
For East—for us.
What opportunity!
Let's show our gratitude—our thanks,
Let's make the most of it!

MEMOS OF 1949

Some memos made during our stay at East bring to the mind of the Class of June '49 many outstanding characteristics of its various members. Without regret we bequeath to the undergraduates of East High School these possessions and abilities, to wit:

Harry West shares his gift of gab with Gene Labus who does pretty well all by himself.

Marilyn Wagner leaves her charming ability to make friends to Marilyn Drottz.

James Booth leaves his golf clubs to Bobby Campbell.

Cheerleader Budd Bartine leaves Neil Llewellyn to carry on the East High spirit.

Jo Ann Pockey leaves her sixth sense (curiosity) to Karen Hendrickson.

Norma Sexton gladly throws away all Scroll editing worries.

Louis Stafford leaves the remaining Quill staff and Mr. Stratton wondering how to edit another Quill without his capable leadership.

Marilyn Patterson shores her golden voice with Marilyn Dennis.

Bill Stane shares his athletic prowess (and letter sweaters!) with Marlene McIntosh.

Marilyn Byers wills her artistic ability to Willis Condin.

Jim Lawrence leaves his curly hair to Herb Hicks—if he will agree to take care of it.

Norma Knudsen wills her racket, tennis that is, to Nancy Sisam.

Ralph Allen hopes Ronnie Bruner will accept part of his swimming ability.

Bill Zust leaves his track shoes, free of charge, for Ethel Shirk.

Jim Hayes leaves his "bright remarks" to Darrell Bobzin.

Rivolie Sideman wills her title as the "Class Brain" to Corrine Mamo.

Strong, silent Bob Solmon, leaves his masculine appeal for the women to Dick Roderick.

Charlotte Peterson wills her charming personality to Pat Thorpe.

Marvin Gay wills his cute blush to Don McGaffee.

Karma Jorgensen and Virginia Tayler also leave a couple of stray blushes to Bob Zust and Jim Reed.

Ronald Jespersen can't leave his sharp clothes behind—naturally he'll need them.

Patty Anderson takes her figure and her wonderful personality—and runs.

Bob Hall leaves, he's gotta catch a bus! Hooray!

Leslie Slaybaugh (ooh-la-la) takes all his handsomeness with him.

Johnny Burns' ability to say nothing in a very few words is given to Jim Wilkins.

Lois Ann Gordon's title as "East's cutest blonde" is gladly accepted by Pat Hanlon.

Bob Boudinot's silly jokes are bestowed upon poor Bobby Kellogg.

Betty Ann Dubansky leaves her big handsome brother, Harlan, behind to charm the girls.

Alma Foote bequeaths her sweetness to Jim Price. He might use it, who knows?

Margaret Eggers leaves her funny jokes to Charlotte O'Brien, who is funny anyway.

Dwight Ellis leaves his voice (ah-h-h) to Wesley Calliger.

Don Stielow takes his great writing ability with him to become another Shakespeare.

Marcia Wieting proudly takes her athletic monograms and hopes June Gander can take her place in the athletic field.

Grant Dalrymple takes his personal noise maker, leaving the school unusually quiet.

Dick Strasburg wills his musical talent to anyone capable of using it.

Charlene Madden and Kenny Music are leaving East with one less couple.

Ed Jones leaves his wonderful wrestling physique to Don Clemens.

Elaine Nunes leaves her beautiful red hair to Nola Bishop.

Diana Johannsen shares a few of her darling clothes with the girls who are always wondering what to wear.

Wilma and Bill Hart, our twins, leave together.

Freida Mathes leaves her position as secretary of the student teachers.

Albert McGill leaves Jack Johnson to keep the cage monkeys busy.

Note:

We hope that the persons to whom these possessions were so generously bequeathed will receive their bounty in a noble spirit so that they too can rise to such glorious heights as did the June '49 Class. (This will is not subject to inheritance tax!)

Girls' Advisor

ADVISORS AND TEACHERS

Under the leadership of our capable principal, Mr. O. G. Prichard, East High has become the most outstanding progressive high school in the city. A loyal sports fan, Mr. Prichard is often present at various games to add his support to East's teams.

Mr. D. Q. Williams, besides fulfilling the full-time job of boy's advisor, is vice principal. Because his friendly, helpful advice and counsel are always available to anyone, his office is seldom empty.

Who is the busiest woman at East? Anyone who knows Miss Agnes Helmreich, girl's advisor, will testify that she is, beyond a doubt, one of the busiest people in the city. Advisor of the Student Council, Senior Board, and a girl's club, she is actively connected with almost every school project. But despite her busy schedule, she always finds time to give a helping hand and friendly smile to everyone.

The successful operation of the school is largely a result of the efforts of this excellent administrative staff, which advises not only the students, but also other members of the faculty.

Ready to advise, correct, guide, and aid, this is our faculty. As a whole, no better group of teachers or friends could be found anywhere. They generously give of their time and talents to make successful the assemblies, school parties, clubs, and other extra-curricular activities. With the help and guidance of such wonderful teachers the years at East are pleasantly and profitably passed.

Not to be forgotten in the faculty group is the efficient clerical staff, Mrs. Dorothy Crouthamel and Miss Alma Hammer. They, with their student assistants, perform the thousand and one daily tasks of our smoothly-running office.

The school nurse, Mrs. Alice Clark, keeps her eye on the health records and habits of every student. Important days in any student's diary are those on which he is ill and unable to attend school. On his return to school, Mrs. Clark carefully checks his physical condition and only when she is sure that he is able to remain in school, does she admit him.

The books and magazines in the school library are under the able supervision of the librarian, Miss Carrie Larsen, and her staff.

QUILL

The Quill Staff this year consists of 22 seniors. The process of being eligible for the yearbook is a difficult one.

While students are in 11A their English teachers recommend them to Mr. Strattan. On a set day after their recommendations have gone in, the delegates go to room 16, and in the time limit of one hour, write an essay. The best essayists are then chosen by Mr. Strattan and Miss McBride to be on the Quill for the following year.

The editor this year is Louis Stafford capably assisted by Karma Jorgensen co-editor.

The different sections of the Quill are: Seniors, Organizations, Sports, and Introduction.

Also aiding in the edition of the Quill are four photographers and two typists.

Kenneth Strotton, Charles Springote, Lester Gobel, Horriet Macy.

SCROLL

BUDD BARTINE, Monoging Editor
GRANT DALRYMPLE, Mokeup Editor

Every two weeks 2400 readers get a complete diary of East High daings in the farm of the Scroll. This year the Scroll's circulation surpasses that of all other years.

This diary, however, invalves much mare than a nightly scribble on a blank page. The hardwarking staff is headed by editor-in-chief Norma Sexton, managing editor Budd Bartine, makeup editor Grant Dalrymple, and copy editor Martha Stevens, who are all warking this semester without earning a credit. Since they have already earned one journalism credit, it is impossible to receive mare.

The Scroll is fortunate in having such capable faculty advisors as Mr. Kenneth Stratton, editorial advisor; Miss Harriet Macy, art advisor; and Mr. Charles Springate, business advisor.

STUDENT COUNCIL

These representatives of the student body meet to discuss various school problems. Each semester every home room selects a representative and alternate to take part in the council meetings. Under the capable leadership of Miss Helmreich, many problems and enterprises are discussed and acted upon. Each semester the council members are divided into committees to take care of different problems. This semester's committees are: Executive, Athletics, Building and Grounds, Campaign, Citizenship, Historical, Hospitality, P.T.A., Public Entertainment, Red Cross, Scholarship, and Social. Each committee has a selected chairman, around five members, and an advisor. These groups enable the council to do a fine job in all it undertakes.

The officers of the student council this semester are Gerald Stephen, president; Bill Hart, vice-president; and Norma Knudsen, secretary. These students do a fine job with the many other tasks which they undertake.

STUDENT TEACHERS

These students, all seniors, have been recommended by a teacher and then appointed student teachers by Mr. D. O. Wilson on the basis of personality, character, scholastic record, and ability to handle a class when a supply teacher is not available to replace an absent teacher.

Although they are only occasionally called upon to teach, they are always ready to serve. The secretary of the group is Freido Mathes.

CLERICAL STAFF

Without the aid of the clerical assistants, the routine duties of the office could not be performed smoothly. The office assistants copably aid Miss Helmreich, Miss Hommer, Mrs. Crouthamell, Mr. Prichard, and Mr. Williams.

Through this office work the girls receive valuable aid in meeting people. These duties will be of great benefit to them when they graduate and start earning their own living.

MONITORS

These groups are the "Traffic Cops" of East's crowded lones. Everyone has seen them seated at the ends of the halls dutifully asking every student who passes them during class time for his admittance slip. Various teachers assign pupils to serve as monitors during their study hall periods. The main duties of the school-time hall monitors are to keep the halls empty and quiet. There are also gym and before-school monitors. The before-school monitors are chosen by Mrs. Schmidt and Miss Hargis and come to school early in the morning to perform their tasks.

NURSE'S HELPERS

Probably the first person to greet you upon your return to school after a day's sickness was one of the nurse's helpers with a thermometer in her hand. These girls help Mrs. Clark, the school nurse, by keeping books and doing the routine office tasks.

LIBRARY STAFF

The library staff is chosen by Miss Larsen to assist her by doing routine jobs in the library such as shelving books. The boys in the bookroom who check out text books to the teachers and those students who collect home room attendance reports are also members of the staff.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra, larger this year than last, is composed of forty-seven members. We are fortunate in having more stringed instrument players than usual. The prospects for the string sections are even better next year when several players will come to East from the junior highs. The orchestra plays for the school plays, music night, and during senior week. The director is Mr. Borg.

BAND

"Oh! Our feet," groan the band members at the end of a weary hour of marching held in preparation for the Drake Relays and Memorial Day parades. Besides the parades, the band has played for music night, pep assemblies, basketball games, and has given programs for other schools. The band consists of 65 members and six majorettes. This semester the director, Mr. Jack Borg, has been assisted by three students from Drake.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

Every young person wha attends East High comes in contact with the A Cappella chair at same time ar ther. The Girls' Glee Club is made up of a group of East High girls who are interested in advancing themselves in music. They meet to practice part-singing, improvement of tone qualities, breathing exercises, and other voice-improving exercises.

These girls, with Miss Sigrid Greenhill, their instructor, sing in several programs around the city and in East High.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

Here is a club that offers a splendid opportunity to all boys who like to sing. This group meets every other day, and, under the direction of Miss Sigrid Greenhill, work together to improve their vocal abilities.

Like the Girls' Glee Club, these boys, well-known for their harmonic singing, take part in programs both in and outside of East High.

THE GIRLS' SEXTET

The girls' sextet can record many musical activities in their diaries. These girls, who have exceptional voices that blend together in splendid harmony, were selected by tryouts at the beginning of the semester by Miss Greenhill, their director. They have sung for programs both inside and out of school.

Much credit must be given to the accompanist, Gretchen Lindfelt, who also must work hard to make their program a success. We are looking forward to seeing four of the girls back again next semester.

Two important dates in the diaries of East High students and friends were April 8 and 9. On these nights, the semi-annual all-school play, "The Whale Tawn's Talking," a farce written by Jahn Emersan, was performed. Under the direction of Mrs. Juniata Laser, the excellent cast, headed by Ed Pagliai, Bannie Raderick, Paul Stanwaad and Suzanne Olls, gave two admirable performances.

HORIZON—MODERN MISS

The Harizan Club is the senior division of the Camp Fire Girls. It has been reorganized at East after an absence of several years. Mrs. Seidler, mother of one of the girls, is the advisor. The Modern Miss Club is a new club at East. It has three purposes: service, self-improvement, and development of sociability. The advisor is Miss McEniry.

The Philomathean Club which was originally the outstanding literary society of East, now is popular as a general interest club for girls. Philo's diary was crowded this semester with interesting, informative activities including a banquet, and participation, together with other girls' clubs, in a style show. The club was under the leadership of Mrs. Bool, the sponsor, and Charlotte Peterson, president.

SHAKESPEAREAN

The Shakespearean Club, under the sponsorship of Miss McBride, who is the head of the English department of East High School, has elected for its officers this year: President, Virginia Taylor; Vice-President, Gloria Fought; and Secretary, Norma Sexton.

Since Shakespeare is studied in the twelfth grade English classes only, members of these classes are eligible for membership in the club.

JUNIOR ZETA

In 1947 the Zetogothean Club was divided into two groups because of its size. The members of Junior Zeta are in 10B, 10A, and 11B. The purpose of this club is to give the girls a chance to get acquainted with girls in other classes. Kristi Beol, president, and the other officers with Miss Fickel as faculty advisor have planned the varied program for this year.

SENIOR ZETA

This semester the diary of the girls of Senior Zeta is filled with activities such as initiation, style shows, a bonquet for all the girls' clubs, and hair and make-up stylists. There have been several joint meetings with the other girls' clubs. The girls in Senior Zetagatheon are in 11A, 12B, and 12A. President Glorio Faught heads the club, with Miss Snyder as faculty advisor.

The members nat only play chess and checkers, but also serve refreshments at each meeting. Mr. J. A. Seevers is the club sponsor, and Ivan Cook is the president. In their meetings, the members learn better ways to play their game.

LIFE SAVING CLUB

The girls' Life-Saving Club meets once a week at the swimming pool in the gym. The girls spend most of their time practicing swimming and swimming exercises to improve their ability in life-saving. Along with the many swimming practices, the girls practice many rules of life-saving. They first wark at Junior life-saving, then participate in Senior life-saving courses. The instructor of this class is, of course, Mr. A. Y. (Scotty) Russell.

During the past semester the club has taken trips to the Art Center and Younkers advertising department. They have also seen a movie about Italian art. The advisor is Miss Mocy.

SCIENCE CLUB

You will probably find the diaries of the members of the Science Club groaning with scientific terms and phrases. The officers and planning committee plan the programs of scientific interest to be put on at school and the field trips to such points of interest as the Art Center, Waterworks, and industrial plants. Heading the club is Kurt De Borde, president; and Mr. Lyman, faculty advisor.

10B GIRLS' CLUB

The purpose of the 10B Girls' Club is to help these girls get acquainted with East. The girls made a tour of the building with Miss Helmreich, their advisor. They became accustomed to the room numbers and the location of various rooms. These girls, in turn, tell their classmates what they have learned, thereby helping all to become better settled in their new surroundings.

SENIOR DEBS

The Senior Debs fill their diary with activities that will help them to acquire social polish, to get the good grooming habit, and to choose a vocation. The Debs have a "dress up" day after their first meeting, and everyone notices those smooth looking girls tottering down the halls in their high heels. Betty Dubansky is club president and Miss Riersen is the faculty advisor.

HI-Y

The Hi-Y Club meets in the Y. M. C. A. every Wednesday night. This group of boys takes part in many activities in and outside of Des Moines. Joint sessions with Hi-Y Clubs in other high schools, special speakers, and other such interesting things are the highlights of the club. The president of the club is Albert McGill; secretary, Bill Hancock; and vice-president, Dick Jahnson.

Y-TEENS

The Y-Teens Club, which meets every Tuesday evening at the Y. W. C. A., is not directly connected with the school. Various speakers, a hay ride, and an exchange of friendship boxes with French students, played important parts in this semester's meetings. The club's leaders are Mrs. Jessie Brawn, advisor; Mary McGraarty, president; Juanita Murray, vice-president; Frances Welsh, secretary; and Beverly Brawn, treasurer.

SPANISH CLUB

El Circula Espanal, mare popularly kawn as the Spanish Club, is made up of students who have taken Spanish. The interesting meetings, in which Spanish is used as much as possible, have made the Spanish Club one of East's mast popular clubs. The diary of the club's events was highlighted by a banquet. The capable leaders are Miss Frances Brewer, spansar; and Phillip Bejarna, president.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club, sametimes called the "Sodalitas Ramana," is one of our language clubs. The highlight of this club is the Raman banquet given each spring. The members dress as ald Ramans, eat Raman faads, and have Raman type entertainment. Miss Cummings, Latin teacher, is the advisor of this club. The officers this semester are: Consul, Paul Stanwood; Pracansul, Harlan Rasenberg and Scriba, Jasephine Briar.

FELLOWSHIP CLUBS

The Christian Fellowship Clubs meet in room 120 each noon. This semester an after-school club was also formed which meets each Thursday in room 311. Joan Bedwell is the president of this club. The other three presidents are: First lunch, Joan Miller; Mid-lunch, Donald Ansley; Third lunch, Duane Callins. At the meetings the members have devotions and social activities.

The after-school club sometimes has such programs as "Truth or Consequences" in which all take part. At the end, contestants are given a ridiculous prize that caps the program with a hilarious climax. These clubs are not wholly social affairs, however, but are organized for Christian young people who do not care to attend the noon movies. Everyone is invited to join.

VIS-AIDERS

The Vis Aiders' Club combines work with play. East High has just about every type of audio-visual machine, and they are all operated by the members of this club. Mr. Yaunt, faculty advisor, trains the students to use these machines in the classrooms.

MOVIE OPERATORS

The movie operators and helpers, under the direction of Mr. Walter Stephens, donate their study period so that we may have a movie during our lunch hour. Because of the effort put forth by these students, we have a more enjoyable lunch period.

ELECTRICIANS

Busy lads, these! Although small in number they perform many services for East High. They manage the public address system, run movies for classes, and handle the stage and lighting for assemblies. The advisor is Mr. Yaunt.

USHERS

Those nasty people who tell you not to save seats in the assembly, and who try to keep order are the ushers who are from Mr. Wilson's homeroom with a few added from Mr. Hammond's and Mr. Goodwin's rooms.

WARDROBE GIRLS

The wardrobe girls, under the direction of Miss Stella Hargis, take charge of the costumes used in school plays and assemblies. We indeed owe a debt of gratitude to these girls who give up their time in order that we may have better school activities.

MESSENGERS

Every Tuesday morning Ray Gordon takes the reports and a specimen of water from the East High School pool to the School Board Office. Another messenger, Fred King, takes a specimen of water to the City Hall. These boys volunteer for this service.

CASHIERS AND CANDY SALES GIRLS

SALES GIRLS

Candy bars and patata chips are favorite snacks during the naan movie. The students responsible for this service are the candy sellers and cafeteria girls. These girls work throughout the entire period of the three lunches. Therefore they must give up all of their study period. They run the cash registers, clean cafeteria tables, and sell candy bars. We indeed owe our gratitude for the time they sacrifice to do this service.

These girls are selected for this work by Miss Helmreich and certainly do a fine job.

BOOSTER COMMITTEE

Yea, team! The latest addition to East High spirit, the Booster Committee, is at work. Red, black, and white pampams waving, scores of young throats yelling as one, the Baoster Committee formed a strang nucleus for the student cheering section. Our teams will testify that the cheers of their school mates inspired them to win many times. Extremely successful since its organization, this graup shaws signs of becoming increasingly impartant next fall. The pictured committee are the leaders and organizers of the Baaster Club.

CUSTODIANS

A graup that is of great value to the students of our schaal is the staff of janitors. They keep the schaal in working order by fixing ladders and locks, cleaning up, and keeping the building heated and ventilated. Although most of the major repairs are dane in the summer there have been same made this semester. New lights have been installed in same classrooms and in the gym, new electrical equipment has been installed, and the corridors and same raams have been painted.

SPORTS

TRACK

As I approached the East High track the other afternoon, I learned that "Mike" Augustine, after an absence of two years, would again be at the helm of the East High track crew, and to assist him would be "Gus" Rump.

As spring rolls around the "men in grey" are seen on their daily path to the East stadium where conditioning of muscles and lungs are a keynote. The boys, under the direction of Mr. Augustine, are in tip top condition.

The 440 and 880 events seem to be the strong part of the team with the hurdles, dashes, long distances, and field events giving excellent support. Returning lettermen represent nearly every phase of track, which points to good balance, a prerequisite of a winning track squad.

Returning lettermen include Bill Zust, 440; Fred King, George Sullivan, 880; LaVern Fields, Lee Whitehurst, hurdles; Norman Appell, Earl Ault, Jim Saunders, Don Barber, dashes; Grant Dalrymple, pole vault; and Morris Bell, football throw.

To supplement these boys are Leslie Slaybaugh, Jack Wolfe, Bob Hall, Don Clemens, and Harold Craig.

The schedule is as follows: March 19, A.A.U.; March 26, City Indoor; April 2, State Indoor; April 9, Valley Relays; April 14, Osky Relays; April 22, Ames Meet; April 29-30, Drake Relays; May 6, District; May 13, Big 6; May 21, State Outdoor.

Tonight I watched the baseball team work out at their practice field. They appeared to be a well-balanced team and have an excellent chance of making a commendable record this season. Jack Smith, Jim Price, Gene Labus, and Gene Lawrence are the only returning lettermen; therefore, the team will have to work very hard to attain the excellence of previous East High teams. However, under the guidance of their very capable coach, A. W. Goodwin, the boys should develop into a powerful and aggressive ball club. The team began practicing February 14 but, because of bad weather, was confined to the gymnasium for more than a month. This summer, as in previous years, many of the members of the team will play in the Junior American Legion League on the Orville Lowe team. This experience will be a valuable asset to the boys who will return next year.

The schedule is as follows: April 8, Dowling, there; April 12, North, there; April 15, Roosevelt, here; April 19, Tech, there; April 22, Indianola, there; April 26, Lincoln, here; April 28, Dowling, here; May 6 and 7, Big Six, Mason City; May 13, Lincoln, there; May 12, 14, 16, 18, Sectional; May 20, Tech, here; May 27, Roosevelt, there; May 31, North, here.

LESSON AT THE BALLPARK

Dear Diary:

Tonight I took Maisie, my girl friend, to a schaal baseball game. I hereby swear to never da it again; I've learned my lesson. She had been coaxing me for several months to take her. My reason for not doing so was, as I tald her, that she wouldn't understand what was going on, and I would have to spend all my time explaining the fundomentials of the game. She assured me that she knew perfectly well what each player was doing and that there would be no need for me to do any explaining. Like a plain and simple sap I believed her. So we went, and thus begins my tragic story of pain and sorrow.

We arrived just as the teams were warming up. Coach Goodwin was hitting flies to the outfielders, who would then peg them in to Price at the plate. Maisie, who was still trying to give the illusion that she knew what was going on, yelled at the top of her voice several times, "Kill the umpire!" The only way I could shut her up was to buy her a hamburger. This tender morsel of week-old bun and fried cracker crumbs kept her occupied until the game began. She sat there in comparative peace and quiet for the first inning, while I thoroughly enjoyed myself and began to believe that she actually did understand the game. Just as the team at bat during the last half of the first inning had made their third out, Maisie got up, stretched, and said that it sure had been a good game and that she would like to see another one sometime. I patiently and laboriously explained to her that there were eight more innings to go. After she got this through her thick female skull she sat beside me for about fifteen minutes without saying anything. Then she tapped me on the shoulder and inquired if she might ask me a question. She wanted to know why the fellow with the basket over his face was wearing a mattress strapped to his stomach. Realizing that it would be a waste of time to give her a decent explanation, I told her that the fellow had a sore stomach and that what he was wearing was in reality a huge hot-water bottle.

My composure, which I somehow managed to retain throughout the remainder of the game, was constantly being threatened by the limitless number of stupid questions asked by Maisie. On the way home she confessed that she didn't know as much about the game as she thought she did; and believe me, dear diary, that was the greatest understatement since Nero sang "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight."

Tonight we attended an East High wrestling meet. The school is very well represented. Out there warming up on the mat are several city champions.

East, winner of the city team championship, has Fred King, Gerald Stephen, Herbie Hicks, Jack Epps, Ed Jones, Larry Roe, John O'Hara, and Jerry Nelson as reigning city champions.

Jones, ex-navy star and Olympic regional qualifier, lost only one match all season and that by a close referee's decision in the state championship.

King and Stephen, as well as Jones won consistently throughout the season. Bill Fors, Duane Summers, Harold Widaman, Jim Crawford, John O'Hara, Carl Burdock, and Don Clemens helped make the East squad a balanced and powerful crew.

Under the experienced eye of the dean of Des Moines high school wrestling coaches, Charles "Greg" Gregory, the boys worked hard each night on conditioning and technique. Next year's squad looks to be prospectively good with Clemens, O'Hara, Summers, Crawford, Fors, Hicks, Widaman and Roe back. Good luck, boys!

SWIMMING

I took a tour this evening down to the East High swimming pool. There, under the able guidance of the diminutive "Scotty" Russell, our poddlers work hard to bring lourels to East High.

This year, though hompered by poor pool facilities, East turned out such fine swimmers as Rolph Allen, 220-yard free styler; Ronnie Bruner, free-styler; George Sullivan, breost-stroker; Jim Hoyes, 40-yard free-styler; Jack Schoch; Jim McDaniel; Dick Desing; Bill Erickson; Gerald Lyons; Jack Johnson; and Dick Johnson.

Swimming against such city ond stote pawers os North and Roosevelt, the East water crew mode good showings. Each evening after school the boys worked on racing, diving, turns, correct water breathing, development of co-ordination, timing, conditioning by swimming a mile each night, ond oll the fundomentols of competitive swimming.

Next year's hopes ore held by returning lettermen Bruner, Lyons, Erickson, Johnson, Schach, ond Johnson.

If these boys come through, East con expect greot things in the future.

TENNIS TEAM

Any girl who joins G.A.A. knows she has made no mistake in doing so. This year the largest organization in the school is being managed by Marcia Wieting, Marilyn Wagner, Leana Brag, and Norma Knudsen, who were elected by the other members.

One of the nice things about G.A.A., and there are many, is that every girl who joins eventually wins some kind of an athletic award. Tennis is one of the important sports which many girls have participated in, regardless of whether they got on the team or not. There's a feeling of pride when one knows he has mastered a certain sport, and this is the spirit which has carried our team to many victories.

The spring schedule is a very hard one, but with six of our regular girls coming back, they are going to come through, I know. The singles playing this semester are Norma Knudsen and Marcia Wieting, who have played in these positions for a year. The doubles, Nancy Sisom, Carolyn Burdack, Janet Spitler, and June Gander are also experienced.

Under the guidance of Miss Spencer, the team looks forward to a successful year.

FOLLOW THROUGH!

G. A. A.

As I went out for a walk by Grand View Golf Course, I saw our girls golf team teeing off. Each year these girls have won many games. With Joan Coffey and Ruthellen Humphrey heading the list, it seems very possible that East will add more victories this year.

Other members of the team are Virginio Ellis, Bonnie Roderick, Marlene Koger, Marilyn Drottz, Joan Templeton, Leona Lindblom, and Rosemary Bennett. All these girls are doing their share in practicing, building up their golf form, and other practices that are necessary for an all-round golf player. Mr. Barnard, their very able instructor, is managing the team this year.

Although we do not compete with other schools in swimming, baseball, basketball, tumbling, and juggling, they are very important in body building and sportsman-like training.

Juggling, which is difficult to master, takes co-ordination of the mind and the actions of the body. This class of girls is instructed by Miss Spencer, who has turned out some expert jugglers.

These interesting sports make G.A.A. the organization to which all East High girls should belong.

One night after school, I was watching our boys' golf team practicing, and was pleased at seeing such experts. Our golf team isn't publicized too much, but it is a team of which everyone in the school can be proud. These boys compete in the city and district meets, with the first and second winners going to the state meet.

The strongest men on the team Tom O'Boyle, Bob Campbell, James Booth, Dick Roderick, and Walter Barnard are expected to make good showings this year. Other supporting members of the team are Herb Pearson, Bill Coldiron, and Milton Price. Others are ready to take the place of Walter Barnard and James Booth who are the only two lettermen graduating. Tom O'Boyle and Bob Campbell are also outstanding lettermen of the team.

Mr. Walter Barnard is manager and instructor for the team this year.

I know the team is going to meet the heavy schedule with much success.

THE PRESSURE'S ON

TENNIS

What a thrill I got as I watched our boys' tennis team go into action. Because a heavy schedule with the cream of competition is coming, the team is working industriously so that they can make as good a showing as they have in previous years. The returning lettermen, Carl Grant and Jack Wilde, expect to make good showings for the team. Much credit should be given to Mr. Gewerth, who is the team's manager, for preparing the team by supervising practicing and instructing very capably.

The schedule for this year includes a round robin in the city and district, playing each school at least once. Winners of the district go to the state meet, and it is very possible that East High will be represented in this meet. Other scheduled games may include Ames and Newton. I know that our team will win many games in the same sportsmanlike way that they have in the past.

I viewed our basketball team in action last night. It was one of the smoothest working teams I have ever seen and made me proud to be a member of the school supporting it. The Scarlet cagers narrowly missed capturing first place honors in the city series, and after the regular season was completed, they advanced to the sub-state tournament. This was the first East High basketball team ever to reach the sub-state. To accomplish this, they had to overcome North High and Roosevelt High of Des Moines, which victories earned them the right to meet Newton in the sub-state tournament, with the winner going to Iowa City for the state tournament. Newton overcame the fighting Scarlet boys only by a small margin.

I saw our second basketball squad play the other night and I say: "Look out you foes of East High two years from now." These boys represented the backbone of our basketball fortunes this season. Many made our first squad work very hard to hold their positions.

These boys led the way to East High's third city second team title in succession. Besides playing against the city schools, the squad played against Big Six competition. The only losses throughout the season were one each to East Waterloo and West Waterloo while wins totaled 14.

Coaching the boys this year was Earl Rodine, a former East High football and basketball star of a few years ago. Mr. Rodine taught the boys fundamentals and plays which were valuable and successful.

COACH STRATTON

At the last basketball game, I saw our cheerleaders in action. As usual, they were showing the same pep and enthusiasm that they had shown at every game, as they led the crowd in East High's familiar cheers.

At all athletic events, these boys direct the East High fans in the cheers, so our team will know we're all for 'em, and will support them faithfully through victories as well as defeats.

Mr. Stratton is the capable advisor of the cheerleaders, and he has done an excellent job. Budd Bartine, this year's captain, has really done a good job too. This year the spirit has been wonderful, and the cheering crew are to be congratulated for their fine work.

COACH RUMP

This evening after school I visited the equipment rooms where the equipment managers or "cage monkeys", as they are better known, hold forth from 3:30 to 7:30 each night.

The boys see nightly that our athletes have proper equipment, and that this equipment is replaced for the next day's use. Before each athletic event, the boys issue uniforms and necessary equipment. At each game or meet, they are the ever present figures bringing out the water, sponging the boys' faces, and taking care of injuries.

The managers, under the direction of Mr. Rump, who has as always, had the equipment in the best shape at all times, are as much a part of the athletic system as the competitors.

Meet the students behind the scenes! These wide-awake students are the enthusiastic salesmen who go forth into the world of business to persuade prospects that advertising in the Quill is good business. Responsibility, ingenuity and self-assurance are but a few of the requisites needed by members of the Ad Staff. Not a little effort is expended in the selection of prospects, making contacts and preparing layouts for advertising space sold.

Even then their work is not completed for proofreading must be done and accounts collected before the end of the term.

Honors are achieved through membership in the $25.00 Club or by the exclusive "Quill's Men", which is attained by selling a total of $75.00 in advertising space. Under the guidance of Mr. Gabel these students are better prepared to meet the challenge of responsibility in the world of tomorrow.

THIS EAST HIGH GRADUATE FOUND A CAREER AT MEREDITHS

You probably remember BARBARA DUVALL of the class of '49. Only a few months ago she was putting the finishing touches on her high school education. Maybe she was sitting next to you in some of your classes.

Barbara chose stenographic work to begin her career. She now works in the Central Stenographic section at Meredith Publishing Company. Barbara's job is important to the company which publishes Better Homes & Gardens and Successful Farming magazines.

Young men, too, will find many career opportunities at Merediths. There are lifetime jobs in the printing crafts, jobs that require real training and skill.

Whatever your preference, contact our Personnel Department today:

A visit with us will help you solve your individual career problem—and start you on the road to a lifetime success. Our interviewers will help you find the position for which you're best suited and in which you'll be most happy. You'll enjoy working at Merediths where you have all the benefits of group life insurance, modern cafeteria and lounge, excellent working conditions and a five-day week.

By the way, another good way to save corn would be to cut out the radio serials.

If you ever see an editor who pleases everybody, he will be neither sitting nor standing, and there will be a lot of flowers around him.

What this country needs is a new kind of money that would be easier to save than to spend.

Those who hurry in haste usually have little leisure in which to repent.
